- Blog Three Page

Overall Aesthetics, Decision & Design

- My design and decision making process started with making sure I had content related to me on the home page. The home page is where the employer would have the first impression. With that in mind I made the design simple with details such as my contact information on that page.
- I chose common font styles which are easily readable.
- I implemented a similar theme and layout in all of the pages just to make it sync up and neat for the eye.
- The next slides contain a few screenshots of the website.

Personality

If I was to describe my personality in one word, it would be "driven". However, one word wouldn't be enough to describe me. I have a great work ethic, I'm patient, resilient and composed when it comes to putting in the work. Now obviously this would sound like a brag but I'm also humble enough to admit that it wasn't easy to become the person I am. It took a lot of work to build who I am and I can say my resilience played a huge role in this. I can say with confidence that I have the perfect personality for this career. I like solving problems and this is an essential drive to succeed in this career.
